5. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any enactment for the time being in force, when—

(a) any male person is convicted of an offence not punishable with death or transportation for life, or

(b) any woman is convicted of an offence of any kind, if it appears to the Court by which the offender is convicted, that regard being had to the age, character, antecedents or physical or mental condition of the offender or to the circumstances in which the offence was committed, it is expedient that the offender should be released on probation of good conduct, the Court may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, instead of sentencing him at once to any punishment, direct that he be released on his entering into a bond, with or without sureties, to appear and receive sentence when called upon during such period not being less than one year and not exceeding three years as the Court may direct and in the meantime to keep the peace and be of good behaviour:

Provided that the Court shall not pass a probation order under this section unless it is satisfied that the offender or one of his sureties (if any) has a fixed place of abode or regular occupation and is likely to continue to have such place of abode or such occupation, within the local limits of its jurisdiction during the period of the bond:

Provided also that if a person under twenty-one years of age is convicted of any offence under the Indian Penal Code, as in force in Mysore, or any other enactments prescribed in this behalf under rules made by the Government, which is punishable with imprisonment not exceeding six months, the Court shall take action under this section, unless for special reasons to be recorded in writing, it does not consider it proper to do so.

(3) While making a supervision order, the court may also direct that the bond shall contain such additional conditions with respect to residence, abstention from intoxicants and any other matters as the Court may, having regard to the particular circumstances of the case, consider necessary for preventing a repetition of the same offence or a commission of other offences by the offender.

Provision in case of offender failing to observe condition of release.

8. (1) If the Court before which an offender is bound by his bond under Section 5 to appear and receive sentence when called upon or any Court which could have dealt with the offender in respect of his original offence, has reason to believe that the offender has failed to observe any of the conditions of his bond, it may issue a warrant for his arrest or may, if it thinks fit, issue a summons to the offender and his sureties, if any, requiring him or them to attend before it at such time as may be specified in the summons.

(2) The Court before which an offender is brought or appears under sub-section (1) may either remand him to custody until the case is heard or admit him to bail, with or without sureties, to appear on the date of hearing.

(3) If the Court, after hearing the case, is satisfied that the offender has failed to observe any of the conditions of his bond, including any conditions which may have been imposed under sub-section (2) or sub-section (4) of Section 5, it may forthwith—

(a) sentence him for the original offence, or

(b) without prejudice to the continuance in force of the bond, impose upon him a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees :

Provided that the Court passing a sentence of fine under clause (a) or (b) shall take into account the amount of compensation ordered to be paid under Section 6.

(4) If a fine imposed under clause (b) of sub-section (3) is not paid within such period as the Court may fix, the Court may sentence the offender for the orginal offence.

(1) The Court before which any person is bound by a bond under Section 5 to appear and receive sentence may at any time, upon the application of the probation officer or of its own motion, if it thinks that it is expedient that the terms or conditions of the bond should be varied, summon the offender to appear before it, and, if he fails to show cause why such variation should not be made, vary the terms of the bond by extending or diminishing the duration thereof or by altering any of the conditions thereof or by inserting additional conditions therein :

Provided that in no case shall the duration of the bond be less than one year or more than three years from the date of the original order, and where a supervision order has been made under sub-section (2) of Section 5, the duration of the period of supervision shall not extend beyond the date on which, in the opinion of the Court, the offender shall attain the age of twenty-six years :

Provided further that, in the case of a bond with a surety or sureties, no such variation shall be made without the consent thereto of such surety or sureties, and that in the absence of such consent the Court shall in all such cases require the offender to enter into a new bond with or without sureties.

(2) Such Court may also, on application made by the probation officer or of its own motion, on being satisfied that the conduct of the offender has been such as to make it unnecessary that he should be kept any longer under supervision, discharge the bond.

13. Any person who is found guilty of an offence and is dealt with under the provisions of this Act shall not suffer any disqualification attaching to a conviction for the offence :

Provided that this Section shall not apply to a person released on probation if subsequent to such release he was sentenced under sub-section (3) of Section 8 or a penalty was imposed on him under that sub-section.
